EXCELLENT WEATHER ALL OVER THE COUNTRY BRINGS OUT RECORD VOTE IN MANY STATES

First Returns Show Lead For Coolidge

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 4.—(By United Press)—Partial returns from 21 Topeka precincts at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon gave for President: Coolidge, 715; La Follette, 111.

The same tabulation gave for Governor: Ben S. Paulsen, Republican, 666; Gov. Jonathan M. Davis, Democrat, 387; William Allen White, Independent, 362.

Six incomplete Wyandotte county precincts gave: Coolidge, 167; Davis, 53; La Follette, 19.

For Governor: Paulsen, 114; Davis, 53; White, 74.

(By The United Press)

Fair weather, with few exceptions, prevailed throughout the nation today as a huge vote, expected to reach 30,000,000, poured into ballot boxes and machines for president, members national and state legislatures, governors and thousands of other state, county and local officers. Rain during the night held down the early vote in some sections of the Pacific Coast.

Extraordinary precautions were taken to prevent disorders in many sections but despite the presence of 4,500 policemen and thousands of private guards scattered through Chicago election districts, one man was shot, seven gunmen arrested and a precinct election booth, and its ballots burned.

Armed guardsmen were stationed at important polling places in Marion and Herrin, Ill., scene of Klan riots and martial law was in effect at Las Vegas, N. M., to insure voting "without intimidation."

In New York State the voting was early and exceptionally heavy as result of the vigorous campaign for governor, which has been carried on between Theodore Roosevelt and Alfred E. Smith.

First returns—complete from New Ashford, Mass., and Somers, Vt.—gave Coolidge the lead by a vote of 28 to 4, John W. Davis getting 4 votes at New Ashford and none at Somers.

Besting reported by New York commission houses was 11 to 1 on Coolidge at 10 a. m. One bet being made at 15 to 1.

BY ROBERT F. BENDER
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Calvin Coolidge leads a strong favorite in the betting today as the American people once more trekked to the polls to elect their president. With fair weather general, however, and an increased registration that forecast the greatest vote in history it was conceivable that the final decision would rest with between 3,000,000 and 4,000,000 voters, casting their ballots for the first time this year. The unknown trend of this vote caused much more uncertainty about the outcome today than there was two weeks ago.

The most cheer for the Democrats that the New York World (strongly for John W. Davis) could muster in its headlines was the following: "Coolidge Victory Foreseen."

"Though Upset, Possible." Such words were placed on the actual voting began today were on the number of electoral votes each candidate would get. Some money was placed on ability to name four states that La Follette would carry. Those who ventured a risk on this selected Wisconsin, North and South Dakota and Minnesota with some favoring Nebraska and Montana as among the possibilities.

La Follette Will Not Get As Many Votes As Roosevelt It was conceded generally that La Follette would not get the electoral vote that was won by Theodore Roosevelt in 1912 when he ran second to Woodrow Wilson with 88 votes in the electoral college but there was great interest in observing whether La Follette would poll the popular vote of over 4,000,000 polled for Roosevelt in that election.

With 200 electoral votes necessary to win, conservative Republicans forecast not less than 200 for Coolidge while optimistic Democratic prognosticators figure Davis to win with between 250 and 300.

There were usual and unusual features about the formal close of the campaign. The usual consisted of the customary statements of confidence

Entire Town For Coolidge

SOMERSET, Vt., November 4.—(By the Associated Press)—The vote of this town for President was: Coolidge, 8; Davis, none; La Follette, none. The vote four years ago was: Harding, 20; Cox, 5.

Four men and their wives, the sole voting population, cast their votes for Mr. Coolidge. This second announcement by any town in the country was made possible by agreement of all the voters to cast their ballots the first thing this morning for Vermont's native son.

First Returns of the Day; Coolidge Leads

NEW ASHFORD, MASS., November 4.—(By the United Press)—First returns in today's national election were recorded here half an hour after the polls opened. The result was:

Coolidge, 28; Davis, 4.

There were 50 registered voters in New Ashford, but one was ill and the other five were out of town. The entire voting population lined up at the polls at 6:30 a. m. and less than an hour later, the election board announced the result.

Four years ago there were 55 registered voters and the result was: Harding, 28; Cox, 6.

In 1918 the result was: Hughes, 16; Wilson, 7.

Coolidge Shows Gain
MANCHESTER, N. H., November 4.—(By the Associated Press)—Windsor, Hillsborough county, the first town in this state to report the vote, complete in today's election, gave Coolidge 9; Davis, 5; La Follette, 0. In 1920, the town gave Harding 7; Cox, 5.

DAVIS TOOK 'EM ALL
SELMA, ALABAMA, November 4.—(By the Associated Press)—The total vote of Martin Station, Dallas county, was polled at nine o'clock and gave Davis seven, La Follette nothing and Coolidge nothing.

Coolidge Carries This Place
BOSTON, November 4.—(By the Associated Press)—The vote of the town of Masopis, in the Cape Cod district in the principal contest of today's election follows:

Coolidge, 52; Davis, 2; La Follette, 1.

Whole Town For Davis
SHREVEPORT, LA., November 4.—(By the Associated Press)—The vote in the general election at McDade, Bossier parish, today was: Davis, 15; Coolidge, 0; La Follette, 0.

At Cashman, Cadeau parish, Davis, 8; Coolidge, 0; La Follette, 0.

were to close at 6:30 p. m.

Ideal Weather In Texas
DALLAS, TEXAS, November 4.—(By the United Press)—Ideal weather prevailed today as Texas voters went to the polls to register their sentiments for national and state officials. A record state vote was anticipated due to interest aroused by the heated gubernatorial race, but no violence was expected.

Roads Good In Kansas
KANSAS CITY, MO., November 4.—(By the United Press)—The weather was clear and warm as the polls opened in the voting precincts in Western Missouri and Kansas today. All roads are reported in good condition. It is believed that due to campaigns to get out voters a record vote will be cast in this territory.

Many Waiting At Polls
NEW YORK, November 4.—(By the United Press)—The sky was overcast as voters started to the polls here today but a forecast of fair and warmer promised a record vote.

Many people were waiting at polling places throughout the city as the voting booths were thrown open.

Fair Weather In Kentucky
LOUISVILLE, November 4.—(By the United Press)—Fair weather was general for the election in Kentucky today. Major party headquarters here believed the total vote would reach 1,000,000.

Shootings Mar Election In Chicago; Polls Under Guard In Some States

LEXINGTON, TENN., November 4.—(By the United Press)—Dan G. Powers, election judge, shot and killed two election officials and perhaps fatally wounded a third following an altercation over a ballot box here today.

The Dead:
C. W. Bartholomew, 70.
W. W. Rodgers.
J. J. Bartholomew, brother of the man killed, was wounded.

One Dead In Chicago
CHICAGO, November 4.—(By the United Press)—One man was killed and two men were seriously wounded today as election bitterness blazed into war.

John Mackey, 22, was shot to death, and Claude Maddox, alias John Moore, was wounded in a running fight between two auto loads of men here.

Early in the day one man was perhaps fatally wounded. When five men poured a fusillade of bullets into an election booth.

Mackey and Maddox accompanied by Anthony Kinsane, were driving along the west side when an auto carrying six men drove up. The men in the later machine started firing and Mackey at the wheel, started a mad drive to escape. A bullet struck him in the head. Maddox died instantly and the machine crashed into a tree. Maddox was shot twice, Kinsane escaped injury and he was taken into custody. Police found several revolvers and rifles in the machine.

The assailants escaped. Police said that Mackey and his companions were supporters of a well known Chicago politician, who is running for the state senate on the Democratic ticket.

Shot At Polling Booth
CHICAGO, November 4.—(By the Associated Press)—Anton Radzinski was shot and probably fatally injured today after he had gone to a polling place to vote. The police began a search for several men without any information as to the cause of the shooting.

Radzinski dropped when perhaps ten shots were fired in and about the polling place, east of the stock yards.

The wounded man who is 47 and a Jew, had not been active politically and the police were uncertain whether he was the intended target or the victim of a mistake.

The victim had found a line of men ahead of him and fearing he would be late at work, he started to leave. Then the shooting occurred.

The shots were fired from a black automobile. The police learned that several men shortly before had appeared at the polling place and asked for Michael Hastings, said to be democratic precinct captain.

It was said Hastings objected to accompanying the men who had called him and turned away and the shooting started. Reports of abduction of political workers and threatened violence were also received from two west side precincts soon after the Radzinski shooting, and police squads were rushed to the two polling places.

ELECTION BOOTH BURNED
CHICAGO, November 4.—(By the United Press)—One man was shot, seven gun men were arrested and one election booth and all its ballots were burned down in election disorders here today.

Antone Radzinski, 40, was shot and perhaps fatally wounded when five men fired a fusillade of shots at the booth in the sixth precinct of the 14th ward. The men escaped.

The seventh precinct booth of the 41st ward was burned down during the night.

Martial Law In Effect
LAS VEGAS, N. M., November 4.—(By the United Press)—Martial law was in effect here today as voters went to the polls. The move was ordered last night by Governor James F. Hinkle, who declared he intended to see that the people of San Miguel county have the opportunity to vote without intimidation.

Trouble threatened when Endique Cipre, appointed sheriff by Judge D. J. Leahy, refused to give up his office to Lorenzo Del Gado who had been appointed by Leahy for improperly denied reports. Delgado had been reinstated by the supreme court but Cipre refused to recognize his re-instatement.

Guards On Duty At Herrin
MARION, ILL., November 4.—(By the United Press)—With armed guardsmen stationed at the important polling places here and in Herrin, Windsor county, home of trouble, voted today.

Deputies Stationed At Polls
OKLAHOMA CITY, November 4.—(By the Associated Press)—Special deputy marshals were stationed at polls throughout Eastern Oklahoma today. Federal officials refused to explain but their action followed charges during a hearing before Federal Judge F. E. Kennamer, here yesterday that attempts would be made to prevent certain citizens voting. The hearing was on a mandamus action involving the voting privileges of negroes in two counties, Judge Kennamer holding in favor of the negroes and ordering election officials to permit them to vote.

Four Brothers Marry Four Sisters

In Maryland four brothers have married four sisters, the first wedding occurring in 1915. There remain two single girls and two single men in the same families. By a peculiar coincidence the name of each family is Stonestor, although they are not related. The picture shows left to right, Mr. and Mrs. Olin Stonestor, of Deep Run, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. Lester E. of Hanover, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. William G. of Union Mills, Md., and Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. of Melrose, Md.

Boards of Strategy of Major Parties Made Mistakes; G. O. P. Gets Credit for Making the Fewest

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(This is another of the series of four dispatches written after a 9,000 mile journey through virtually every one of the Northern and Western states, the most extensive tour of investigation made by any one corresponding in the present campaign. In the first dispatch Mr. Lawrence predicted the election of Coolidge and Davis, and in the second, the retention of nominal control by the Republicans in Congress.)

WASHINGTON, November 4.—It is almost over, so a retrospect can be made not only with impartial judgment but without thought of influencing votes, a circumstance which prevents voters from admitting mistakes during the progress of the campaign itself.

But there have been mistakes made. Every one of the three boards of strategy guiding the destinies of Coolidge, La Follette and Davis did things which each might have avoided. Yet if one is to judge by the effect on the electorate, the Republican managers blundered least of all, in fact the campaign conducted for the president was about the most skillfully handled in the present generation. Nothing compares with it unless perhaps the management of the 1911 campaign by the Democrats, when they re-elected Wilson by having him make occasional speeches from Shadow Lawn, N. J., and by working the prosperity issue to its last ounce of vote-getting strength.

Republicans Got Early Start
Whether money did it or enthusiasm or the momentum of federal office-holders, the fact remains that the Republicans were fully underway in every state of the Union months before their opponents started. This was due partly to the certainty as early as last April that Calvin Coolidge would be the Republican presidential nominee. Organizations formed in the primary campaigns in the GRATZ, PA., November 4.—(By the Associated Press)—Property valued at more than $200,000 was destroyed by fire which swept the center of this town early today, destroying the Union Hotel and 13 adjoining buildings. The blaze was out and under control after help had been summoned from nearby towns.

Bitter Contest For Congress Feature Of The Election

(BY PAUL R. MALLON)
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, November 4.—(By the United Press)—The congress which within the next two years will vote upon vital national reforms—taxation, railroad ownership, farm relief and the supreme court—is being chosen at the polls today.

An entire house of 435 representatives and 32 of the 60 members of the senate are being selected.

Haunting in the balance were questions of an serious importance—the disposition of the presidency—the question of whether La Follette will maintain his "balance of power" domination over the new congress, and to decide the present one, the question of whether the Democrats can gain sufficient strength to put through their own laws no matter who is president and the possibility that the Republican party might regain a working majority that could enable them to put over their program.

Reports from all quarters while the ballots were being cast indicated that the La Follette group would surely hold their own and that the Democrats might better their representation in each house with a vague chance of obtaining a legislative control.

Here in the situation in each legislative chamber:

HOUSE—Of the 435 members being selected 225 are Republicans; 207 Democrats; one Independent; one Farmer-Laborite and one Socialist. A majority of the house is 215 so that the Democrats must capture at least 211 seats that now are held by Republicans or fail to gain control.

Sixty of the Democrats are certain to take office March fourth, if they live, because the Republicans have placed no candidates against them.

In 11 of the southern states the Democrats appear to be certain of maintaining their usual majorities.

Of the Republicans only four are certain. They were chosen in the Maine elections held in September. The remainder of the house is in doubt. The La Follette group which applied the Mellon tax bill at the last session is pretty certain to be held in session because most of them are running upon the Republican ticket in states normally Republican and now considered strong La Follette territory.

SENATE—The last list of the senate was 43 Democrats; 43 Democrats; and two Farmer-Laborites. Of this number, 27 Republicans, 14 Democrats and one Farmer-Laborite were up for re-election. A majority of the senate is 40 votes and to capture this the Democrats must gain six seats now held by the Republicans.

Of the 34 Democrats up for re-election, eight are sure to be returned from the nonpartisan Democratic districts which they belong. Four are not even opposed by the Republicans.

Only One Republican Certain
Of the 17 Republicans only Senator Frank B. Rowland is certain to take his seat. He has been elected in the September balloting. The Republicans are burdened with selecting a successor in Connecticut in December to Brandegee who recently died.

However, most of the seats are presumed to remain the same with the exception of 12 states where there are serious contests against both Republican and Democratic seat holders. These states include Colorado, Illinois, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Montana, New Jersey, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Rhode Island, West Virginia, Wyoming and Kentucky.

On the one hand, the states hang the complexion of the new senate. The Democrats can capture half of them and capture the senate.

Can't Vote In D. C.
Are Demanding It

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Ballot boxes heretofore known in Washington only as "ballot boxes" were visible everywhere in the downtown section of the capital today, but they were padlocked and no votes were cast in them.

"All citizens of the United States are voting today, except citizens of the District of Columbia," "Ballot boxes closed," read signs. The district league of women voters staged the demonstration to emphasize the fact that Washington residents cannot vote as citizens of the district and to further an educational campaign to have the disability removed.

Pigs Attack Firemen

NEW YORK, November 4.—(By the United Press)—A battalion of pig-attacked firemen today were fighting flames that eventually destroyed eight barns, ten sheds and 2,200 pigs at a "pig farm" in the Bronx.

Large numbers of the pigs which escaped the flames came charging down on the firemen, tripping them and seriously hampering the work. Police had to shoot half a dozen of the animals that were running around, with their bristles aflame and their bodies badly burned. Loss was estimated at $100,000.

Some Picturesque Battles Raging Over Congress

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—(U. P.)—Opposition from Thomas D. Schall, here are some of the outstanding features of the picturesque battles raging today over selection of congressmen and senators.

Twenty-two of the candidates for the house are women, more than ever sought these legislative posts before.

Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, the chairman at the Democratic National Convention who introduced radio funds to the phrase "for what purpose does the gentleman rise?" and who shook the lid from Teapot Dome is facing his fiercest fight of his political career for reelection over F. B. Linderman, in Montana.

Francis E. Warren, when the Congressional Record lists as 80 years old and who has been in the Senate since 1890, finished a vigorous fighting campaign making sometimes seven speeches a day against his strong Democratic opponent, Robert Rose, who has rallied strong Progressive strength behind him in Wyoming.

Governor "Jack" Walton is seeking the vindication of his people again for his fight against the K. K. K. in Oklahoma and hopes to be elected to a senate seat over his strong Republican opponent, W. B. Fine.

Magnus Johnson, the dirt farmer, in the senate, whose voice shook it aifter as none before, is faced with strong

Speaker Frederick B. Gillett, 73 years old, decided to quit the house and aspire to the senate seat of Senator David I. Walsh of Massachusetts and the verdict of the ballots is strongly in doubt.

Sally Is Fined

Joseph Sally, 76 years old, of Earlytown, was before Judge Sprague in Municipal court Monday for possession of a couple of gallons of liquor, which the police found secreted in his junk shed Sunday.

Sally claimed the liquor belonged to Walter Taylor, a boarder at the Sally home, but the court thought he was guilty and imposed a fine of $100 and costs against him.

Two of County's Oldest Citizens Vote

Two of the oldest persons in Scioto county to vote in Tuesday's election were Granville Days, 98 years old, of Jefferson township, near Lucasville, and Mrs. Rebecca Smalley, 94 years old, of 1316 Findlay street. Mr. Days is a Democrat and voted for John W. Davis for president, and Mrs. Smalley, a Republican, supported Calvin Coolidge, while both expressed a preference for Judge Thomas for the Common Pleas court.

Service Co. Options White Star Bus Line

Increased transportation service for residents of Sciotoville and Wheelersburg is foreshadowed in the announcement by the Portsmouth Public Service Company that they have secured an option on the White Star Bus Line, now operated by J. R. Zimmerman between Portsmouth and the two neighboring villages. The option expires December 17. If it is exercised, the service will be continued for the present.

In addition to the buses, the Portsmouth Public Service company expects to place in operation in December three new street cars of the latest type of construction. When they are running each third car on the main line instead of turning back at New Boston by the Portsmouth Public Service Company to purchase. Applications for such permission will probably be made this week.

In confirming the reports of the deal for the bus line, and the contemplated betterment of the service to Sciotoville and Wheelersburg, Mr. H. G. Bonner, general manager of the Public Service company stated last night that he hoped the new cars would be in operation not later than December 15.

The deal for the bus line is in keeping with the policy of the purchasing company, which believes that in the long run better service can be given the people by unified service, a policy which is seeking to establish in the Hilltop and Boulevard section.

McDonald's Labor Government Resigns; Baldwin To Form New Government

LONDON, Nov. 4.—(A. P.)—The cabinet of Ramsay MacDonald, Great Britain's first labor government, resigned today. King George accepted the resignation.

BY LLOYD ALLEN
United Press Staff Corp.
LONDON, Nov. 4.—Great Britain's first experience with a labor government, which has lasted a little less than a year, came to an end today when Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald went to Buckingham Palace to place the resignation of the cabinet in the hands of his sovereign.

Ex-Premier Stanley Baldwin, head of the Conservative party, will resume the leadership relinquished to Labor after the election of December 1923.

"Baldwin will take the office with one of the most impressive majorities ever accorded a Tory government, however and political observers agree it will be four or five years before MacDonald and his colleagues will have another chance to govern."

COOLIDGE EXPECTS ELECTORAL VOTE OF 350; SEES G. O. P. HOUSE ELECTED

WASHINGTON, November 4.—(By the United Press)—President Coolidge believes that from all indications the election day will crown Republican campaign efforts with complete success, a spokesman for him said at the White House.

The president was represented as believing with William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican National Committee that he will come through tonight with about 353 electoral votes, the prospect of getting 35 out of 70 more votes he classes as doubtful.

Mr. Coolidge feels that the campaign was conducted on a very high plane. For himself, it was said, he feels he has done nothing in the campaign that he is sorry for and regarding the outcome will have nothing to apologize for. Administration of campaign funds he considers to have been done very properly and efficiently.

The president foresees a Republican house elected with a clear Republican majority of 20 not counting those Republicans who have in the past voted with the Democrats.

Herman Vs. McCain
DAYTON, O., Nov. 4.—Will Tommy Herman, Dayton's knockout artist, be able to turn the trick that Benny Leonard, Charlie O'Connell, K. O. Chaney and scores of other leading lightweights have failed to do—knock Billy McCain, of Cleveland, out of his feet?

Herman gets his opportunity to show that he is the hardest hitting lightweight in the game today for he is slated for a twelve round event with McCain at Lakeside park arena, this city, Tuesday night, November 11th.

In more than 100 ring battles McCain has never been knocked out or knocked off his feet. He has met all the hard hitting boys of his weight and laughed at their alleged punching ability.

STATION AGENT KILLS
LUMBER MAN OVER JOB
GILMAN, GA., Nov. 4.—F. C. Benner, mill Supt. of Savannah River Lumber Company was shot and killed here today by W. R. Thurston, former station agent of the Atlantic Coast Line. Thurston according to officers became enraged after losing his position with the railroad on complaints made against him by the lumber company. He was held by police at Ridge-land, S. C.

Injuries Fatal
HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Nov. 4.—Mrs. Verla Long, 30 years old, 715 Twelfth avenue, died Sunday morning at 4:30 o'clock in the Kessler hospital of injuries suffered last Friday afternoon when she was run down by an automobile after alighting from a street car at Twelfth avenue and Eighth street.

Her death called forth renewed efforts on the part of the police in their search for the driver of the car, said to have been R. H. Bias, 1806 Dalton avenue. A warrant has been issued for Bias and police late last night were expecting his early apprehension.

Payne Is Now
Worshipful Master
Annual election of officers held by Aurora Lodge No. 43 F and AM last night resulted in the advancement of present officers occupying the chair.

Charles Payne who has been Senior Warden was elected Worshipful Master succeeding Russell Stockham who was presented with a Past Master's Jewel in recognition of his good work the past year.

Other officers elected were: Ross N. Donohoe, Senior Warden, Paul Stockham, Junior Warden, Walter Gemmill, Senior Deacon, Frank L. Gilmer, Junior Deacon, John A. Ives, Secretary, V. D. Hozz, Treasurer and Andy J. Reinhard, Tyler.

The officers were installed by Acting Grand Master Frank Appel and Acting Grand Marshal John Brunny.

Athens High Beats
Nelsonville Eleven
ATHENS, Nov. 4.—The largest crowd that ever witnessed a high school football game in Athens saw Athens High win from Nelsonville High, 26 to 0, Monday afternoon. Nelsonville business houses closed, along with the schools, and the whole town apparently moved down to Athens.

At least 3000 people saw the game and Ohio Conference officials were employed. Hamilton and Eichenlaub, Notre Dame, were referee and umpire, and Neal of West Virginia Wesleyan, was head linesman.

Thrillers were provided by Johnny Algoe, Athens quarrier, who returned a punt 75 yards and a touchdown and Captain McKinley's run through the visitors for 55 yards and a score.

VOTE IS HEAVY

Pleasant autumn sunshine brought out the vote early today and at 2 o'clock reports from the various precincts in the city indicated that between 60 and 70 percent of the normal vote had been cast.

This was an unusually heavy vote for that early in the day and workers on duty at the polls were not anticipating any very great rush just before the polls closed at 5:30.

Court House

Held On Lunacy Charge
Henry Byrd, 64 years old, negro, was taken into custody by county officers in the North End last night and brought to the county jail here and held pending inquiry into his sanity.

Byrd has shown symptoms of mental trouble for several days and when he became violent was taken into custody.

Wife Seeks Alimony
Blanche Bond, a minor, suing by next friend, Blanche DeFleet, charges neglect and cruelty in her suit for alimony and custody of their minor child, now five months old, filed in Common Pleas court Tuesday, against Lewis Bond, whom she married at Ironton in June 1923.

Plaintiff in her petition filed through Attorneys Skelton and Todd says that Bond has failed and refused to support her and complains that he has ordered her to leave the home to not give her and their child medical attention, although she avers both are much in need of same, besides, she declares, he has made numerous attempts to take their infant child from her.

A temporary injunction was allowed by Judge Thomas restraining the defendant from going about the home or molesting in any manner in the custody of their child until the case can be heard on its merits.

PIKETON TO SEE
"COVERED WAGON"
PIKETON, Nov. 4.—The picture show, "Our Hospitality," given under the auspices of Pike Post American Legion at the opera house, Saturday night, was well attended in spite of the fact that a number of political rallies were held throughout the county on Saturday night, and a number of social affairs were also held, that drew quite a crowd from the picture show.

The picture Saturday night will be "The Eternal Conflict." People of Pike and vicinity are elated with the prospect of getting to see "The Covered Wagon" and a capacity audience is expected to be present at both the afternoon and evening shows, which will be held November 21st.

Woman Confident
She'll Be Elected
CHEYENNE, WYO., Nov. 4.—(United Press)—"I am more sanguine today than I've been at any time during the two weeks campaign," reports could hardly be more favorable, said Mrs. Nellie T. Ross, woman candidate for Governor of Wyoming, when asked about her chances at the polls today.

"I am inspired with the belief that Wyoming people will return a verdict in my favor," she concluded.

Mrs. Ross spent yesterday at her home here meeting women leaders from over the state.

IRONTON, O., Nov. 4.—Thieves entered the Murock Music Store, on South Third, near Park Avenue. They secured but $15 for their efforts, leaving untouched bills amounting to $200. Their motive for the cause is not known as the money lay in plain view and was as easily obtained as the $15.

Nonagenarian Is Called By Death

After an illness of about one week, Mrs. Lizzie Cooley, one of the city's oldest residents, quietly passed away Monday night at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Alice McNeal, 1001 Gay street, where she had made her home the past few years.

Mrs. Cooley was about ninety years of age at the time of her death. She came to Portsmouth from Garrison, Ky., about fifteen years ago, and is survived by one son, Simon Cooley, 930 Tenth street. Her husband, Richard Cooley passed away two years ago.

The funeral will be held at the McNeal home Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 with Captain Phillips of the Salvation Army in charge. Interment will be made in Greenlawn cemetery.

Demand For That Portable X-Ray

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Nov. 4.—The recent announcement here of the development in the General Electric laboratory of a portable X-ray machine has brought inquiries from a Central American government concerning the possibility of obtaining 1200 for use of customs inspectors at ports of entry. The portable X-ray, according to its inventor has the power of disclosing contents of bundles, and of penetrating the walls of a room or a trunk, and it was thought the device might be adapted to customs inspection work. The machine is not yet ready for commercial development, according to reports here.

FRENCH PREMIER IS SUSTAINED

PARIS, Nov. 4.—(United Press)—Premier Herriot received a vote of confidence from the Chamber of Deputies today, by a vote of 410 to 171. Herriot demanded the vote be taken after violent scenes between members of the right and left, in which it was charged the premier had "broken" his election promises.

YOUTH LOSES LIFE IN ATTEMPTING TO JUMP ON A BIG TRUCK; WHEEL PASSES OVER CHEST; DRIVER EXONERATED

Making a mistake as he attempted to board a big auto truck owned by the life of O'Donnell Clifford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Clifford of 811 Mill street, about five o'clock Monday afternoon, the fatality occurring at Fourth and Grand streets. The youth's life was crushed on the south side of the five ton truck which was carrying a heavy load. A rear wheel passed over the boy's chest. Tom Cook, a neighbor of the Clifford family, was driver of the truck and it is thought that the youth attempted to climb on the truck to ride with his friends. He had done this on several occasions.

According to the driver the truck attempted to grab hold of the side of the truck, his hands slipping, permitting his body to fall between the wheels.

Coroner Virgil Fowler, who examined the body, found death due to a hemorrhage of the left lung punctured by the crushing in of the truck.

Physician Called
Mr. Cook stopped the truck within a short distance but he was excited that bystanders had call a physician. Dr. William Seltz of Fourth street, west Gay, was the first to arrive and he found the boy had died almost instantly. Lynn's ambulance

Seltz of Fourth street, west
Gay, was the first to arrive he found the boy had died almost instantly. Lynn's ambulance been called to remove the body to a hospital but when it was learned that the body was already being humanely cremated, the machine was used to convey the body to the mortuary. Cook, who is employed by Fr. Seymour, last night gave the following version of the fatal accident.

"I was driving south on Gay street about eight miles an hour, with an exceptionally heavy load of dirt, when I first that I knew the truck was about to jump on the tracks. I tried to jump on the tracks, but I was not sound just in time to see his hand slip from the side of the truck bed.

"I stopped as quickly as possible and I did not know that the wheel had passed over his body until I was alighted from the truck. When I saw him lying in the street. The wheel I was so horrified to see could not go to his rescue. I did not know a man who could help me to hurry and call an ambulance. Obitulis is a neighbor of mine and I did not know that he was the boy whom I had run over until some time later when I went to Lyngns morgue.

According to an eye witness the car ran from the sidewalk between the truck and a row of parked cars. The driver was told to get out of the car and to climb on. He did not want to do so. He was told to shout to the driver, but ran for crowd on the sidewalk without giving any warning.

Mrs. Julia Snyder, who lives on Fourth and Gay streets, was the first to reach the scene. She was relating the details of the accident

"I did not see the boy try to get on the truck. I arrived just as the truck came to a halt. The boy was lying in the street about eight feet behind the rear wheel of the truck. He was still breathing, but wanted them to carry him home, but they would not. Dr. Seitz was called and just after he arrived, Lynus ambulance came and took him away. The boy died where he was placed in the ambulance."

Chester Clifford, 19, a brother of the boy, was at home when the boys were notified of the accident.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Clifford, one brother, Chester, three step brothers, George Walsinger, John Walsinger and Edward Walsinger, and one sister, Mrs. Blanche Tackett, all of this city.

Patrolman Charles Bard was the Cook home, last night, and was called to appear at police headquarters to give his version of the story to the officials. The man related his story to Chief Arthur, and was released.

The Sleep'ess Shoeman Near

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, (trouble), was, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly—Will you please tell me how many real, honest-to-goodness generals we have in the United States?

—WANT TO KNOW.
During the World War, or in 1917, three of America's great generals were honored by being made full generals. They were P. C. March, T. H. Bliss and J. J. Pershing. These three men are the only ones in the American army since the Civil War who have been entitled to wear four stars on their shoulders. The other four Americans who have won the title of full general were Washington, Grant, Sherman and Sheridan of civil war fame.

Dear Dolly—I am coming to you for some advice. Dolly, there is a fellow I see at dance all the time. He told me friend he was crazy about me. Do you suppose he means it? I like his looks very much and would like to get acquainted with him. He always gives me a friendly smile. Tell me how to get acquainted with him for I am bashful.

—ANXIOUS TO KNOW.
I can't believe any girl who attends public dances is too bashful to ask a friend to introduce her to a young man who attends these dances. If you can't find any other way to meet him, you might bump into him, or stop on his toes, or something.

Dear Dolly—Will you please print a recipe for chili-con carne?

—YOUNG HOUSEWIFE.
One pound of hamburger steak, one large or two small onions, one can of tomatoes, one can red kidney beans. Fry onions in two tablespoons of butter, add onion rings. Then put in hamburger steak and break up into small pieces as it fries. When brown, add tomatoes and kidney beans. Season with chili powder, salt and a pinch of black pepper. Let simmer two hours.

Dear Dolly—Do you know of any one who would be willing to board an old man in his seventies. He is able to take care of himself, and is able to pay a reasonable amount for his board and room. If you know of anyone like this please let me know as soon as possible.

Mrs. Z. Y. X.
I have my replies to your letter I will let you know.

Dear Miss Wise—if you have a recipe for making beef loaf I wish you would print it in this department.

—YOUNG BRIDE.
Beef Loaf—Two pounds chopped round steak, one slice chopped salt pork, one teaspoon browned bread crumbs (boiled rice can be substituted), one and one half cups milk, one egg, place of butter size of an egg, salt well and season with onion, sage, to suit individual taste. Bake about one hour in baking dish. Eat either hot or cold. This will serve eight people.

A Daily Reader—I suppose they will keep on with the "bank" you mentioned as long as they believe that way.

Truly A Friend—if you have a home two thirds paid for why not sell it and buy another house for less money and you would have the difference to clear up your debts and live on until you get able to work. I imagine you could make a neat little sum on your house, and you could get a smaller one, or a cheaper one until you got on your feet again. You could also borrow some money on the house you have if necessary. If you are afraid it will be sold to pay your debts before you are able to pay them why not have it put in your wife's name, then they could not sell it to pay your debts. If the house is large enough you could rent out part of it furnished or unfurnished and make a little money that way.

Constipation makes bright children dull—give them relief with Kellogg's Bran Constipation dulls the youthful mind—makes children backward in their studies—makes them listless—and can lead to serious diseases. Constipation is a dangerous disease.

You cannot afford to take chances in getting relief. You cannot afford to experiment or put off. Kellogg's Bran brings relief—permanent relief if taken regularly. Even in the most chronic cases of constipation it is guaranteed to bring results. If it fails, your grocer will return your money.
Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumpled, has brought relief to thousands because it is ALL bran. Remember, only ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective. That is why Kellogg's Bran is recommended by doctors. It sweeps, cleans and purifies the intestine. It causes regular, healthy, normal action. For it works as nature works. It is ALL bran.
Have your children eat it regularly—two tablespoons daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Eat it with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it in hot cereals. Try it in the wonderful recipes on every package.
The flavor is delicious—a crisp, nut-like flavor that delights the taste. Different by far from ordinary bran, which are unpalatable.
Begin serving Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumpled, to your children today. Eat it yourself. The leading hotels and clubs serve it. Made in Battle Creek. It is sold by all grocers.

RECOMMENDED BY HER DOCTOR

Found Strength by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Kankakee, Illinois.—"My mother-in-law always took your medicine for weakness, and when the change of life did her so much good that she induced me to take it for a weakness I had for a year and a half. It has strengthened me, and now I have a nice baby boy. I do all my own housework now, and I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all women who are weak, and I am taking it again for weakness, as my family doctor has recommended it for this purpose."—Mrs. HARRY COULOM, 984 North Harrison Ave., Kankakee, Illinois.

Real Evidence of Merit

For the relief of female weakness, pains and backache, nervousness and irregularities, with other troubles common to women, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a dependable medicine. Its worth is thoroughly established by such letters as the above. There are women everywhere, who, having received benefit, gladly tell their women about it. For sale by druggists everywhere.

More new chiffon velvet frocks arrived at The Fashion this morning. They are beautifully fur trimmed in tunic effect. One that struck my fancy particularly has an over-blouse, over a velvet slip. The blouse is edged in red piping and there are two pockets touched with fur and odd embroidery. Another, with a knee length tunic, has collar and cuffs of red fox. Then there is a brown chiffon velvet that is beautifully developed with panels of sand crepe.

Really you'll find a chiffon velvet a splendid addition to your wardrobe especially as Fifth Avenue has stamped them with her seal of approval.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

WHAT THE KING'S COOK DID IN THE SKY

So he opened the little brown door.

The cook of the King of Yum Yum Land stopped being frightened when the magic dust-pan ran off with him to the sky, and he began to look around.

"Well, well, well," he said to himself. "For the first time in my life I am seeing the world. And as I have the magic fork I am in a fair way to make my fortune. I can start a hotel and I won't have to cook as much as an egg. I can stay in bed all day and just have my fork and provide food for a hundred guests."

But then it occurred to him that there he was up in the sky with no idea of how to get down.

All at once he saw a wonderful sight.

Right ahead of him sitting comfortably on a big cloud, was a nice little house with a red tile roof and a red chimney and nice green shutters and a cute front porch and everything. The cook didn't know that it was the House-That-Jack-Built.

"Well, of all things!" he cried. "What if that funny stuff sticking out of the windows? It looks exactly as though part of the cloud had got away inside and was poking through."

But pretty soon the dust-pan brought him near enough to see what the stuff really was. You know what it was, of course. Mrs. John's bread dough that had raised until it got so big and so light that it had floated the little house right off its foundation and carried it up to the sky.

But the cook couldn't make it out until he was close up.

"Why! It's bread dough, as sure as you're born!" he declared. "Nice sweet, light bread dough! I wonder how it got here and where it is."

He gave a little jab with the magic fork at a great bulgy place that was sticking out of one of the windows, and poof! puff! whiff!

The air went out of the bread-dough like a punctured balloon, and the dough settled back in its pan on the table as though it had never had a thought of leaving. Except for a little flour dust on the ceiling, and a patch on the stove, and a smudge on the door, the kitchen was as clean as a pin.

Mrs. John was a good housekeeper.

"Doughnuts and gingerbread!" cried the cook. "If queer things keep on happening I'll begin to think I have wheels in my head. I hardly know whether to believe in my good luck or not. A magic fork to provide food and a fine house to live in, in my old age. I'll just go inside."

So he opened the little brown door and stepped off the magic dust-pan and went in.

Instantly the magic dust-pan started to fall toward the earth.

It dropped down like a stone.

But it never reached the ground. Nanny and Nick and Daddy Gander were still floating around in the air with no place to go. The peddler's floating powders were very strong and lasted a long time.

As the magic dust-pan passed Daddy Gander, the ring in the handle caught in it. Laftos of the old gentleman's green coat and hung there.

"Great growing! broom-corn!" cried Daddy, grabbing it with both hands. "If it isn't my dearly beloved dust-pan! Look here, Twins. We're saved!"

The minute he touched it, the pan spread out like a magic carpet, and in about two minutes the three adventurers were sitting on it as safely as the Thief of Baghdad on the magic carpet.

The Affair at Flower Acres

©1924 by NEA Service Inc. WELLS

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Douglas Raynor is found shot through the heart in the early evening on the floor of the sun room of Flower Acres, his Long Island home. Standing over the dead man, pistol in hand, is Malcolm Finley, former sweetheart of Raynor's wife, Nancy. Mrs. Turner, Raynor's nurse, stands by the light switch in a moment. Nancy appears, white-faced and terrified. Orville Kent, Nancy's brother, comes in from the south end of the room. And then Ezra Gorman, friend of Finley; Miss Mattie, Raynor's sister, and others, enter upon the scene. Detective Dobbins heads the police investigation. An autopsy reveals that Raynor also was being systematically poisoned with arsenic. Lionel Raynor, son of Douglas Raynor, by first marriage, comes to claim his father's estate. Dolly Fay, a neighbor's girl, begins to suspect that another will favoring Nancy is being kept hidden by Grimshaw Gannon, a hired man.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

So, Dolly thought if opportunity offered, and she certainly would, she proposed to hunt for that missing will. Doubtless it would require little search, for Gannon, unsuspecting of the child, would not hide it carefully. All this came to Dolly by intuition, and, as she went, she pondered on the ways and means.

As if in answer to her thoughts, she saw Gannon come out of his room, and, glancing off in the direction of the Raynor house, she saw him enter it.

Whereupon Miss Dolly Fay quickly whisked herself about and pretended to be going the other way.

Passing Gannon, she went on, and, when he was safely out of sight, she made straight for his house.

Entering the always open door, she went into the one big living room, which was also his workroom and museum, and this time, ignoring the bookshelves and bookcases, she looked eagerly about at the desks and cupboards which she had never before noticed.

A medium sized desk seemed to hold the papers of the old man, and after a glance about her, Dolly quickly began pulling out bundles of letters and papers.

As she had anticipated, they were for the most part relating to the science of entomology in one way or another. Letters, clippings, memoranda—all seemed to have to do with insects or birds.

Until a type-written paper rather different from the others caught her eye. It was a large sheet, bit of dinner lecture. She unfolded it and glanced over it quickly. She caught sight of the words "to my wife, Nancy Kent Raynor," and she knew she had achieved the object of her search.

Her absorption was interrupted by an exclamation outside the window and looking up Dolly saw Lionel Raynor, his face aflame with anger staring at her. "You little thief!" he cried, and then, as he strode around to enter at the door, Dolly's quick-thinking mind led her swiftly to conceal the paper by slipping it into the lining of her coat.

There was a rip in the bottom of the side pocket, and anything put there, would, as she well knew, drop to the bottom of the coat and stay there in safety. This was done, when, and it was but a moment—Lionel entered at the door from the hallway.

"Give me that paper!" he said, in a low, threatening tone.

"What paper?" said Dolly.

"Don't talk like that! The paper you just now stole from Mr. Gannon's desk!"

"Why, do you want to steal it?"

"Shut up that baby talk, and hand over that paper!"

But Dolly was not at all intimidated. "Mr. Raynor," she said with dignity, "I don't know what you're talking about. I'm here working on my entomology. Mr. Gannon is my teacher—and you accuse me of stealing!"

"That will do," he said, sternly. "I saw you. You took a paper from Mr. Gannon's desk. Where is it?"

"I put it back—there it is," pointing to the first paper at hand.

"That's not the one—it was a yellowish paper—" Dolly looked at him inquiringly.

She was sure now that she had done right to take the will. It must be the lost one, that belonged to Nan. At any rate, Lionel Raynor had no claim to it.

"Yes—the one you were reading when I came for the porch steps."

For some reason the man had concluded to change his tone. But it was too late, his anger had proved to Dolly his deep desire to get possession of the paper and she was bound he shouldn't.

All a mistake, Mr. Raynor," she said, with her sweetest smile. "Some of these old yellowed newspaper clippings, I dare say."

"No, it wasn't!" his ire blazed up anew. "It was a larger paper—a type-written one—where is it?"

"Search me!" said Dolly, stangly, at the same time putting her hands in her coat pockets, careful not to expose the slitted lining of one.

"On my honor, these are the only ones I have."

"What do you mean by then less than ever?"

"I mean that when the truth is known about—about Douglas' death—it will be impossible for me to marry anybody."

"Except me! Now, Nan, dearest, you must confide in me."

"Never!" and Nan Raynor's face was so full of horror and alarm that Finley himself felt a shudder of fear.

"What an opportunity!" exclaimed an exultant voice, and Dobbins stepped inside the arbor. "Just the people I want to see. And I will inform you that unless you both answer truly the questions I'm going to put to you, it will be a very serious mistake."

"We are not obliged to incriminate ourselves," Finley said.

"No, but I shall judge by your manner, by your attitude—ah, I may say I shall judge more by what you say than by what you do."

"Be careful, Nan," Finley said, "of what you don't say!"

But though his tone was jocular it was obviously a forced lightness.

"First, Mrs. Raynor, as you may or may not know, we retrieved that parcel you threw into the Falls."

"Yes?" said Nan, in a low tone.

"And we found that it contained a dope outfit—32, put it plainly, some bottles of morphine."

"Yes?"

"And I want you to tell me, if you please, why you threw it away with such secrecy and care."

"Because," Nan spoke with an effort, "because, if it had been discovered in my possession or if I had been known to destroy it—I would have been misjudged in the matter."

"Misjudged? Am I misjudging you now, when I assume that the morphine in question belonged to you?"

"I—I suppose it—belonged to me—"

Nan's great eyes looked dark and troubled, and she glanced from one man to the other, as if uncertain what course to pursue.

"Oho, you suppose it belonged to you, do you? Aren't you quite sure? Where did you buy it?"

"I—I didn't buy it."

"Where did you get it, then. How did you get it? That stuff is not easily procurable—though its devotees seem to manage it, somehow."

"I found it—" Nan said, slowly. "It belonged to somebody else."

"Where did you find it?" Dobbins' cold glare seemed fairly to hypnotize her into answering, and she said:

"Among my husband's belongings."

"GIVE ME THAT PAPER!" HE SAID IN A LOW, THREATENING TONE.

pockets I possess, and they are both empty."

She stood before him, a slip of a thing, her simple little one-piece frock quite evidently possessing no hiding place, her coat pockets empty, and her piquant face turned up to him with a look of utter innocence.

"Positively, I haven't it on me," she cried, as she threw off the loose coat, and whirled around before him. "I swear, Mr. Raynor, that I have not any paper hidden about my person."

Of course she hadn't, with her coat over a chair-back near by.

Unsuspecting her prevarication, Raynor gave her a perplexed look, even held her coat as she slipped her arms again into its sleeves.

"I resent all you have said to me, Mr. Raynor," she announced with dignity. "I will leave you to look for papers yourself. I'm going home."

CHAPTER XI

Nancy Explains

The Italian Garden at Flower Acres, though conventional in design and detail, was so planned that it was always a picturesque mass of bloom and greenery. In one corner was a specially attractive arbor, and here sat Finley and Nan Raynor.

"It's out of the question, dear," he said, "that you and I should shun each other's society for a foolish feeling of convention. Your husband is dead, and when the time comes, you are going to marry me."

"Oh, no, Malcolm—never!"

"Why not, pray?" he smiled at her as at a wayward child. "I'm not going to hurry you, Nan, I'm not even going to trouble you with my love-making—but, unless you can look me straight in the eyes and tell me you don't love me—then I shall continue to hope, yes, and expect—"

"Oh, hush, Malcolm—don't talk like that. I never can marry you until this mystery is cleared up—and then—less than ever!"

"What do you mean by then less than ever?"

"I mean that when the truth is known about—about Douglas' death—it will be impossible for me to marry anybody."

"Except me! Now, Nan, dearest, you must confide in me."

Women Interested in Morning Sun Cooking School, Which Opened Auspiciously Today

"Old Mother Hubbard" went to the cupboard. And there she found a big jar of doughnuts, a platter of hot French fried potatoes and a dish of tasty raisin croquettes, for she had been to the Morning Sun Cooking School, which opened this afternoon, and had learned the secrets of deep fat frying.

The school, which is being held at 516 Galia street, opened with a good attendance of interested women.

Many in the class had returned to welcome Dr. R. B. Shives, director of the school, who conducted a similar school at Hordchow's last spring. Most of the spring class were in attendance this afternoon, augmented by a good number of recruits.

The school will continue through Friday, with lectures and demonstrations every afternoon at 2 o'clock. Tomorrow's lecture will deal with cakes and cake icings, and Dr. Shives will show how to make various decorative frostings.

Thursday the lecture will be on "How to Use Economical Cuts of Meat," and Friday's subject will be "Salads and Salad Dressings."

The school is free to every housewife in Scioto County.

HEATED CAMPAIGN IN KANSAS ENDS; KLAN ISSUE TOPEKA, Kas., Nov. 4.—The most heated campaign in years was brought to a close in Kansas last night with charges and counter charges involving the Ku Klux Klan hurled in an eleventh hour attempt to sway the long electorate.

The Klan, which has been the overshadowing issue in the gubernatorial race since the entrance of William Allen White, Empire publisher, as an independent and anti-Klan candidate, was brought squarely to the front as a factor in other candidates by Fred Robertson, Democratic state chairman, who charged that two Democratic campaigners had been suspended from the hoed organization because of their support of the Democratic ticket.

LA FOLLETTE AT HOME TAKES FINAL RAP AT REPUBLICAN TICKET

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 4.—Senator Robert M. La Follette, independent presidential candidate, considered politics again last night after a day of rest in doing easy odd jobs around his 60 acre farm.

In a formal public statement, he challenged again the "line honored threat of industrial depression" as a factor in the election. "Calvin Coolidge has authorized the Republican National committee to run an 'elect me or starve' campaign in the closing days of the contest," his statement said.

The Senator will vote early in the morning in Madison, will devote the day at the farm to various chores, and will receive election returns in the executive office at the state capital.

What Voters Will Choose Today

Realizing making a decision among the three presidential candidates, the voters of the nation will choose today—the complete membership of a new house of representatives, 34 United States senators, 24 governors of states, and a host of local officials.

Although these facts seem to have been generally known on the Rutgers campus they have just been brought to light here. Hazel who was named an star full back on the Rutgers College Camp, has been married for eight years and is the father of three children. Although these facts seem to have been generally known on the Rutgers campus they have just been brought to light here.

popular of the 700 students in the college. He is president of the senior class and of the Athletic Association. Son of a Michigan farmer, living in the town of Marshall, Hazel was born and brought up in New York state. He first entered Rutgers in 1916 when he played on the varsity football team as a freshman. In March of his first year he married Miss Margaret Lorenz, distant relative of Dr. Adolph Lorenz, the famous Vienna surgeon.

Having no money Hazel left college and went with his wife to Michigan, where for a year he worked two farms on contract. Later he became a laborer in the Flint Foundry Company, and in three years became manager of the plant. Then he decided that he needed more college work. He has majored in economics to aid him in business.

Hazel is 29 years old. "I am not ashamed of it," he said in regard to his age. "Boys go to college too young and do not get all they can out of it." Hazel says he would rather play football than eat. Mrs. Hazel and his six-year old son attended the Rutgers game and think football is "great stuff" he says.

Those are the odds you fight in the battle against Pyorrhea. Four out of every five over 40—as well as thousands younger, too—are afflicted with this sinister disease. Will you be a victim?

Protect your gums and save your teeth

Just as a ship needs the closest attention under the water-line, so do your teeth under the gum-line. If the gums shrink, serious dangers result. The teeth are loosened. They are exposed to tooth-decay. The gums themselves become tender and bleed easily. They form sacs which become the doorways of organic disease for the whole system. They often disfigure the mouth as they recede. If used in time and used consistently, Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea or check its progress. Forhan's is safe, efficient and pleasant-tasting. It preserves gum health, corrects tender gum spots, hardens gum tissues so they will offer proper support to the teeth, and keeps your mouth fresh and healthy. Forhan's is more than a tooth paste; it checks Pyorrhea. Thousands have found it beneficial for years. For your own sake ask for and get Forhan's For the Gums. General Menocal declined to see callers to elaborate upon the manifesto, but said he might do so later.

HOW CANDIDATES WILL SPEND ELECTION NIGHT

(By United Press)

President Coolidge will remain at the White House to receive returns in his library over a special United Press wire and by radio.

John W. Davis will be at the home of a friend in seclusion near his headquarters at the Belmont Hotel, where a special election wire, supplemented by radio, will keep him informed on returns.

Senator Robert M. La Follette will leave his vote in Madison, Wis. He returned to his farm home, Sunday and will remain in Madison to receive election returns Tuesday night.

Governor Charles W. Bryan, Democratic vice presidential candidate, plans to receive reports of the election at the governor's mansion in Lincoln, Nebraska, tomorrow night. "But I'm going to bed as soon as we know the trend of the votes," he said.

General Charles G. Dawes will cast his ballot in Evanston, Ill. He will receive the election returns tomorrow and tomorrow night at his own home in Evanston.

Senator Burton K. Wheeler, independent vice presidential candidate, will get the returns over the radio at his home in Washington, where he will return tomorrow.

Sentenced To Ninety Years In Prison for Embezzlement

(CLEVELAND, Ohio, November 4—(By the United Press)—Charles Tombakis, bank clerk, today was sentenced to 90 years in prison after pleading guilty to embezzling $38,000 from the Commercial National Bank of Youngstown. Sentence was passed by Federal Judge Paul Jones. The indictment contained eighteen counts and Judge Jones sentenced Tombakis to eighteen years on each count. In addition to drawing the heaviest sentence of the day in Judge Jones' court, Tombakis is the heaviest prisoner ever sentenced here. He weighs 450 pounds.

Odds on President Being Re-Elected Placed at 11 to 1

NEW YORK, November 4—(By the United Press)—With betting on the various candidates assuming much larger proportions on the eve of election odds on President Coolidge to be re-elected, stood at 11 to 1 today, according to W. L. Darnell and Company. There is a trend of Coolidge money being offered and considerable bets were made in sight today. Odds on Davis were 13 to 1 against his election. Odds on La Follette stood at 30 to 1 against.

LIQUOR OFFENDER FINED

A fine of $300 and costs was imposed against Kellie Bradford, 24, by Squire George S. Morgan, Monday for possession and transporting liquor unlawfully while Simon Howard, 22, was assessed $200 and costs and Henderson Sheppard, 21, was taxed $100 and costs for possession of liquor.

The men were apprehended by Federal Agent F. W. Hickey in raids over the week-end. In default payment the defendants were remanded to jail.

YOUNG WIFE, TIRED OF LIFE HANGS HERSELF

CLEVELAND, Nov. 4—Two young women were dead here, one the victim of suicide, and the other is believed to have been the victim of accidental death.

Miss Rosamond Thompson died tonight after police had found her in a stupor at her home. Coroner A. E. Hammond said death was due to an overdose of sleeping powder.

Mrs. Marion Hutchinson, 20, a bride, was found hanging from a rafter in the attic of her home by her husband when he returned from work.

FOREST FIRES DESTROY BIG TIMBER ACRES

NEW YORK, Nov. 4—Forest fires in Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey today had burned over hundreds of acres of valuable timber and threatened several villages as volunteer fire fighters struggled to prevent the onward march of the flames.

In New York and Pennsylvania hunting was banned in parts of the states and every effort was made to check the largest fires in the mountainous regions. The town of Suffern, N. Y. was still in danger today while a dozen fires continued to burn throughout the state.

In eastern Pennsylvania a score of fires were raging today and an exclusive summer colony near Wilkesbarre was cut off for a time by the flames.

PRIEST CHARGED WITH WOUNDING TWO BOYS

CINCINNATI, Nov. 4—The Rev. O. B. Auer of the St. Columbanus Catholic Church of Loveland, pleaded not guilty today to a charge in connection with the wounding of two 16 year old boys who were shot while in front of the church Halloween night.

The boys, Robert Brown and Sidney Berer, were seriously wounded and were well on the road to recovery when the charge was brought against the priest.

Rev. Auer characterized the charges as absurd. He was released on $10,000 bond. Trial was set for Friday.

TWO CHILDREN ARE BURNED TO DEATH

HASKET, Fla., Nov. 4—Two children were burned to death and a man and two other children perhaps fatally burned in a fire which destroyed the F. E. Trask home here today. The dead are Joyce, 1, and Eunice Trask, 12. Adolf and Frankie Trask and L. A. Hill, roomer at the Trask home, were seriously burned. Origin of the fire was not determined.

CREW OF EIGHT STAGE HEROIC FIGHT FOR LIFE ON SINKING LAKE BOAT

SANDUSKY, O., Nov. 4—The story of a nine hour fight for life staged by eight men against high seas on Lake Erie was told here when the tug Albatross of Cleveland, owned by the American Construction Company, was towed into this port by the freighter John Mullen bound here from Sandusky.

The tug, Kate, dispatched to the rescue of the crew Admiral, which was still floundering in distress, later brought that craft into port.

The Albatross was bound from Detroit to Cleveland with the derelict scow Admiral and two others towed. The pump lines of the boiler of the Albatross burst and the tug filled with water. Despite work with buckets by the crew the Albatross nearly sunk. By the time the pumps were working the scow had broken her rudder off. To prevent the tug from sinking, two scows were set afloat. The seas were pouring over the tug and the scow Admiral and the men practically abandoned hope. At midnight the freighter John Mullen, Captain J. E. Mahon, saw the distress signals and came to her rescue.

May Revive The Old Central League

for reviving the old Central League of baseball clubs were discussed at a conference yesterday of representatives of 14 cities in Ohio, West Virginia, Indiana and Pennsylvania. W. T. McCullough, founder of the Federal League, presided at the conference at temporary headquarters of the organization being postponed until the next meeting. Clive represented at the conference according to Mr. McCullough were Wheeling, W. Va.; Erie, Johnstown, Altoona, Oil City and Franklin, Pennsylvania; Canton, Mansfield, Lima, Youngstown, Akron, Dayton and Springfield, Ohio; and Fort Wayne, Indiana.

Twelve of the cities were ready to make an additional deposit of $1,000 to obtain a franchise. Mr. McCullough declared, but added that it was the plan of the organizers to limit the League to eight clubs. Final action on the franchise together with completion of the organization will be taken at the meeting, it was announced.

PRODUCER OF "LEWD" SHOW STAYS IN JAIL. PENDING COURT HEARING

NEW YORK, Nov. 4—Earl Carroll, theatre owner and revue producer, who spent his weekend in the Tombs rather than furnish $300 bail while awaiting trial on a charge of having exhibited "Lewd and indecent pictures" in advertising his production, pleaded not guilty. Although his attorneys made a spirited fight to have the case heard today, the court set the hearing for Thursday. District Attorney Burton appeared before the court in person to ask for the adjournment. He explained that his office was not yet ready to proceed with the prosecution.

Carroll's attorney also made a last fight to have his client paroled in his custody. The district attorney opposed this proposal on the ground that the producer easily could produce the $300 bail but had refused to do so. "The matter of a parole is nothing for us to decide," Justice Feltman held. "He will not furnish bail if he prefers to stay in jail."

America's Greatest Soldier Will Visit This City During Legion's New Home Drive

America's greatest soldier, Sergeant Samuel Woodfill, will visit this city during the American Legion drive for a permanent home beginning Armistice Day, November 11th.

This is one of the big features of the American Legion drive that will appeal to every patriotic citizen. It will be an honor of which we can feel justly proud. To see and hear America's greatest soldier tell his own story of his experiences in the world war will be a privilege that you cannot fail to miss. His message will appeal to both young and old. If our memory of world war events, including the service record of Sergeant Woodfill, has grown dim, we can refresh our memory by close study of those interesting experiences of Sergeant Woodfill which are taken from the Congressional Record of the 67th Congress, which follows:

General Order No. 10, January 22nd, 1919.
Samuel Woodfill, 1st Lieutenant, 60th Infantry. For conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity above and beyond a call of duty in action with the enemy at Cambrai, France, October 12th, 1918. While he was leading his company against the enemy his line came under heavy machine gun fire, which threatened to hold up the advance. Followed by two soldiers at twenty-five yards, this officer went out ahead of his first line toward a machine gun nest and worked his way around its flank, leaving the two soldiers in front. When he got within ten yards of the gun it ceased firing and four of the enemy appeared, three of whom were shot by Lieut. Woodfill. The fourth, an officer, rushed at Lieut. Woodfill who attempted to club the officer with his rifle. After a hand-to-hand struggle, Lieut. Woodfill killed the officer with his pistol. His company thereupon continued to advance until shortly afterwards another machine gun nest was encountered. Calling on his men to follow, Lieut. Woodfill rushed ahead of his line in the face of heavy fire from the nest, and when several of the enemy appeared above the nest he shot them, capturing three other members of the crew and silencing the gun. A few minutes later, this officer, for the third time demonstrated conspicuous daring by capturing another machine gun position, killing five men in one machine gun pit with his rifle.

He then drew his revolver and started to jump into the pit when the two other gunners, only a few yards away, turned their gun on him. Failing to kill them with his revolver, he grabbed a pick lying near by and killed both of them. Inspired by the exceptional courage displayed by this officer, his men pressed on to their objective under severe shell and machine gun fire.

Sergeant Woodfill was officially rated by General Pershing, Commander of the Expeditionary Forces, as first in the list of the many heroes in those forces.

Sergeant Woodfill enlisted from his native state, Indiana, in 1901 and although but little past 33 years of age is accredited with 30 years, 5 months of service, as follows:
Eleventh Infantry, Private, Philippine Islands, 1901-1904.
Third Infantry, Private, Alaska, 1904-1906.
Ninth Infantry, Corporal, Alaska, 1906-1908.
Sixteenth Infantry, Lance Corporal, Alaska, 1908-1911.
Ninth Infantry, Sergeant, Alaska, 1911-1912.
Ninth Infantry, Sergeant, Alaska, 1913-1917.
Commissioned Service, Captain, A. E. F., 1917-1919.
Thirtieth Recruit Co., G. S. I. Sergeant, 1919-1920.
Nine of the 21 years of active service was spent abroad for which he was given double credit. For his service he has been decorated with the following medals:
Congressional Medal of Honor by the United States.
Chevalier De Legion of Honor by France.
Croix De Guerre with Palm by France.
Croix De Danilo by Montenegro.

A Stubborn Cough Loosens Right Up

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, throat tickle, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get a full pint—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste. Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Campaign Too Much for Him; Commits Suicide

S. T. LOUIS, November 4.

(By the Associated Press)

Hans Hackel, prominent German language editor and president of the corporation publishing the Westliche Post, was found dead in the kitchen of his home late last night by his wife as she returned from a theatre. According to the police report his head was resting on an open jar of the gas range.

A note stating: "I cannot stand the strain any longer," was found, police reported. With this remark his friends believed he referred to the criticism he was said to have incurred for his opposition to the Steubenville Society, a national organization of German-Americans, during the political campaign. Mr. Hackel was a ardent supporter of President Coolidge.

Community Chest Drive Reaches $34,357.51

With the half-way mark passed in the Community Chest campaign, workers meeting at the Chamber of Commerce headquarters last night were optimistic over a successful conclusion to the drive. "Our optimism doesn't mean that there will not be hard work ahead of us," said T. F. Taylor, chairman of the campaign, "but it does mean that we feel that continued work will put this drive across."

Subscriptions reported last night totaled $8,332.50, making the grand total $34,357.51. The largest gift reported to date is that from George D. Selby who gave $7500 toward the budget and promised another $2,500 if the entire budget of $50,000 is raised and, past indebtedness taken care of. There are still many teams that have not reported and every effort will be made within the next few days to get these workers to complete their canvass and turn in their cards.

Yesterday's detailed report follows:

NEGRO SHOT TEN TIMES OVER LIQUOR DEAL; ONE GUN USER SAID TO HAVE RELATIVES HERE

Police here were asked Tuesday to keep a lookout for two white men, apparently about 30 years old, wanted in connection with the fatal shooting of Charles W. Williams, 34, a well known negro in Huntington. The shooting occurred in a vacant room at 613 Second avenue, Huntington, and according to the Huntington police, resulted over a liquor deal. Four suspects held shortly after the murder were released today.

Huntington police were busy today making an effort to locate a man whose wife, it is said, had written a letter to local relatives conveying the information that her husband and another white man had shot a negro eight times Monday and then escaped.

Huntington police say the negro was shot ten times, just before he was to have received ten gallons of whiskey.

One of the white men implicated in the shooting is said to have relatives in Portsmouth and may soon be under arrest.

Home Kiddies Attend First Baptist Services

An interesting feature in connection with the Sunday School services at the First Baptist church Sunday was the presence of seventy-six children from the Seloto County Children's Home, near Wheelersburg.

The children were brought to and from the church in thirteen automobiles, furnished by the members of the church, and they were chaperoned by the superintendent of the home, Mrs. C. W. Howes, and several of the teachers. The children thoroughly enjoyed the services, and the members of the Sunday school were happy to have them. Miss Anna Anglin's class of the church sang several beautiful selections.

Cincinnati Symphony Here November 13

Fritz Reiner, brilliant young Hungarian, conductor of the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra, which is booked for a concert in this city on November 13, at the high school, under the auspices of The Ladies' Musical, achieved a remarkable success at the stadium concerts in New York during the past summer. Mr. Reiner was invited to appear as guest conductor for two weeks, and his performances aroused to a pitch of enthusiasm, even those New York critics who exhausted their vocabularies in his praise. From a first night audience of seven thousand the crowds grew until during the last week ten to twelve thousand nightly sat spellbound under the magic of his baton.

Clever Entertainer at Wheelersburg Friday

Robert Louis Stevenson once remarked that Wherahillo Rawel, who is to entertain on the Wheelersburg High School Yecum course, Friday, November 7, "is a Polynesian raconteur who fascinates one with the witchery of his word paintings. So be wary," warns Stevenson, "lest he start you roaming over Southern Seas. Apart from this bad habit he is a fine fellow and one of my choicest friends."

Rawel is the proudest of modern culture as contrasted with the primitive savagery of his native South Sea home. He is a living rebuke to the man who says he has no chance. He sets before his audience the art, craftsmanship, customs, beliefs and mental talents of the native Polynesians from whose ranks he sprang under Christian culture to his present enviable position. He appears in native costumes which are marvels of primitive beauty. His story overflows with oratory, wit, humor and pathos.

Style Show Week at Criterion Store

Style shows with beautiful feminine models attract crowds every season. But style shows that feature men's apparel are rather out of the ordinary and the Criterion is anticipating large attendance around their store windows tonight, Thursday and Saturday evenings, when Mr. Harold Wellington, style expert from the House of Kuppenheimer, will present the newest styles in clothes and accessories. The store will not be open any evening except Saturday, but any questions concerning the window demonstrations will be welcomed inside the store during the day.

Beaver Beats Jackson

Beaver and Jackson had their first diamond tilt of the season last Sunday and Beaver easily defeated Jackson 10 to 1.

The first half of the game was very close but the last half was decidedly in Beaver's favor. Vanfossan pitched strong and steady ball, thru-out the entire game allowing the Jackson boys but four hits, two of which came in the third inning following Jackson's lone tally. Vanfossan's back up with good support at all times.

Miller got by well until the fifth inning when the hard hitting Beaverites began hitting his delivery all over the lot, some of which were long drives. At the same time his support wobbled considerably. He gave way to Young in the eighth who fared no better.

Four Prisoners Break Jail at Russell, Ky.

IRONTON, O., Nov. 4.—Four prisoners, all of whom were escaped from the Russell city jail during Friday night. The jail delivery was simple, according to reports.

The four men—John Stewart and Earl Brammer, of Ironton, and a Davis and Brown—effected their escape by lifting the cell up from the floor and then crawling from the enclosure. The door of the room was smashed and all squeezed to safety through a window.

Herrnstein Stars CHILLICOTHE, Ohio, November 4.—William Herrnstein, former C. H. S. football star, and now a student at the University of Michigan, and member of Michigan's eleven, distinguished himself on the gridiron Saturday. Herrnstein caught a 50-yard pass and scored a touchdown in the first period of the game with Minnesota. Michigan won, 13-0.

Youths Turn Gun On A Train Rider; Shots Fatal

ASHLAND, Ky., Nov. 4.—A man identified as Jesse Caudill, of Paintsville, Ky., was shot while on an east bound coal train on the Big Sandy division of the Chesapeake & Ohio at Chestnut, ten miles from Paintsville, yesterday afternoon.

In one of his pockets was a collection of manuscripts purporting to have been written in the Greenup jail on Saturday, June 28, and bearing the name of Laura Watts.

Later Laura Watts, Caudill's sister-in-law, who is held in the Greenup county jail, identified the body as that of her relative. Mrs. Watts is held on a charge of murder in connection with the fatal shooting of her sweetheart several months ago.

Authorities at Paintsville are holding a 20 year old youth whose name was given as Meek, and are searching for another youth of similar age said to be named Cook, in connection with the killing of the stranger.

According to the reports received here the man was beating his way on the train and the two youths, who were wandering along

President of Michigan In Serious Condition

DETROIT, November 4.—The condition of Dr. Marlon LeRoy Burton, president of the University of Michigan, was regarded as less favorable today. Dr. Burton has been suffering for the past few weeks with bronchial pneumonia.

Attending physicians today said Dr. Burton passed a restless night. "It became necessary," the report said, "to operate on the parotid gland in which an abscess had formed," causing complications in the throat. Symptoms of failure of the circulation developed, but the pulse is stronger and more regular this morning.

To Drag Niles Creek for Bodies

NILES, Ohio, November 4.—Following persistent reports reaching the ears of Colonel L. S. Connelly, of Cleveland in charge of national guardsmen still on duty here that "men were killed in the Ku Klux Klan and anti-Klan riot of Saturday and their bodies split away," search with grappling spoils probably will be made of Mosquito creek, near where the fighting between the factions was hottest. Colonel Connelly said he would not be surprised if one or more bodies were found.

Sunday School Convention Held In Piketon

PIKETON, Nov. 4.—The Pike county Sunday school convention was held at the Methodist church here, starting Saturday afternoon and closing Sunday night.

Excellent speeches by state and county Sunday school workers featured the convention and splendid music was furnished throughout the convention by the orchestra of the Waverly M. B. church. The attendance at each session of the convention exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the officers and a very constructive program for the year was mapped out. Officers elected for the coming year are, President, Mr. Charles Ault of Wakefield, Vice President, Calvin Bumgarner of Beaver, Treasurer, Mrs. C. K. Patterson, Piketon, Secretary Miss Nellie Daily, Sargents.

The program was as follows for Saturday afternoon session: 1:30 Registration of delegates, 2 o'clock, opening hymn and prayer by Rev. A. L. Cleary, 2:10 Our Enlarged Church School Program, (a) The Sunday School by Rev. E. E. Barnhart, (b) The Vacation Bible in the Public Schools, Mr. I. S. Richmond, 3:30 appointment of committees, 3:45 Devotional Message, Rev. Silas Smith, 4 o'clock adjournment.

Sunday morning session 7 o'clock, Divisional conferences, Children's led by Miss Margaret Markham, Young People's led by Mr. Floyd Ware, Adult led by Prof. Floyd Deacon, Administrative led by Mr. Charles Gableman, 7:45 general assembly song service led by Rev. George L. Fike, 8 organization and function of the New Council of Religious Education, Mr. I. S. Richmond, 8:30 Young People and the Church of Tomorrow, Fred D. Cartwright.

Sunday morning session 9:30 o'clock, A Modern Sunday School, under the direction of Rev. E. E. Barnhart and Mrs. C. K. Patterson, 10:30 Public Worship, (a) Devotions by Rev. L. A. Dibble, (b) Sermon by Rev. A. S. Davidson, 11:30 adjournment.

Afternoon session 1:30, The Teacher and His Bible, Miss Wheaton, 1:50 Our Unused Resources, Fred D. Cartwright, 2:20 report of committees, unfinished business, 3 o'clock divisional conferences, 4 o'clock adjournment.

Sunday evening session 7 o'clock, Music by the orchestra from Waverly M. B. Sunday school, 7:20 Our Young People by Fred D. Cartwright, 7:50 Adult Satisfaction and Service, Mr. I. S. Richmond, 8:20 closing moments by Rev. A. E. McCullough.

President's Shoe-Maker Friend Says He Will Be Only Republican Not Elected

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Nov. 4.—(United Press)—"The only Republican in the country who won't be elected is myself," James Lucey, shoemaker, friend of President Coolidge declared today in an election statement to the United Press.

Lucey is Republican candidate for the Massachusetts house of representatives from the first Hampshire district. "Calvin Coolidge will be elected by a landslide—the man is a genius," the shoemaker said.

Lucey recalled he had known the president for 30 years.

K. of P.'s After District Meeting

Members of Magnolia Lodge K. of P. completed plans last night for holding open house tonight when election returns will be received at the hall by special wire service. Entertainment consisting of dancing, a short program and refreshments, will be carried out during the time returns are not coming in.

Last night following a communication from the new District Deputy Judge E. E. Corn of Ironton that plans are being made for a district convention the lodge voted to extend an invitation to have the district meeting here. Judge Corn has succeeded E. A. Stedman of Solotville as District Deputy who will set a date in the near future as the time for holding the district gathering.

Grudge Scraps On Next Card

There will be plenty of "grudge" scraps on the program that will be dish-up to the local boxing fans Monday night at Distel Hall. On one side of the card will be the boys who are working out with Dando and Blair, and on the other side will be the boys who have been visited by the training quarters of either Dando or Blair will verify that there is no love lost among any of the opposing boxers.

It is a well known fact that Blair and Dando have never been friends, owing probably to professional jealousy which exists among boxers the same as among other members of the human family. It is possible Nig feels that Shifty has usurped a part of his prestige among the local fans. At any rate it looks as though the popularity is pretty evenly divided which means that when the hundreds of fans congregate at Distel hall next Monday night about one half of them will be rooting for Blair to win and the balance for him to lose. What the verdict will be only Monday night will tell.

On paper the match looks pretty even and some of the fans who think Shifty will not be there at the finish may be greatly fooled. Dando has been training for several months and his recent bout in Circleville disclosed the fact that he has learned to wallop mighty hard, as Kirk Galloway, the Columbus boxer, who met the florid fire times in two rounds, will attest. And for some reason or other Dando seems to have all thought.

Firpo and Weinert To Clash Nov. 12

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 4.—Louis Angel Firpo, Argentine heavyweight, will meet Charlie Weinert, local heavyweight, in a twelve round decision bout at the Newark Armory on November 12. The Argentine fighter will at once begin training at Pompton Lakes. Weinert recently defeated Ad Stone and Quentin Romero of Chile.

Plan for Homecoming

Plans for celebration of their homecoming were made by Scioto Lodge, of Odd Fellows, at their regular meeting last night. Saturday night will be "Homecoming night" and a parade, program and refreshments will be features. Every Odd Fellow and his family are invited.

The third degree was conferred last night on two candidates, Carl Seth and Fred Pyre.

Teams To Bolster Their Weak Spots

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Although the 1924 season has been over only a few weeks, the champions and pennant contenders in each league are already giving thought to next season.

It is apparent that even the pennant winners in both leagues must do considerable bolstering if they are to again carry off the honors.

Washington's pitching staff is a question. Walter Johnson may not return. It is hardly likely that the veteran southpaws, Zachary and McGride, will go as well next year.

Detroit's worry is in the infield. Shortstop Stigey is still handicapped because of a bad back. Second base, a problem for several years, has only the veteran Frank O'Rourke as a candidate.

Pitching is George Sisler's problem at St. Louis and McGraw's at New York. Incidentally the outfield of the Giants could be improved upon.

Brooklyn, a veteran club, could stand some young blood, front pitching, in which Vance and Grimes featured, kept Brooklyn in the running.

Of all the contending clubs in the two leagues, Pittsburgh is by far the best fortified. It needs only an infusion of the fighting spirit to put it over with a bang.

BOB BEAT QUERY

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 4.—Frankie Bob, Dayton, Ohio, outpointed Midget Query, Latonia, Ky., in a fast ten round bout here last night. They are lightweights.

Both Bob and Query have fought Frankie Sussell of this city.

How That 52 to 7 Score Looked to Chillicothe Scribe

The Chillicothe News - Advertiser crafty River City mentor evidently realized, however, that the weight handicap would soon assert itself. Accordingly the Portsmouth squad was instructed to make a strong attack at the start of the second half.

The Chillicothe team plainly showed the lack of a leader during the last half and appeared bewildered and unorganized. Its weakness, as indicated by the seven touchdowns scored against it, enabled the Portsmouth squad to pile up the greatest score made against a C. H. S. team in recent years.

The one bright feature of the otherwise drab contest for the hundred or more Chillicothe rooters was the brilliant playing of Byron Eby. Time and again he proved his worth in returning punts and kick-offs. His greatest asset, however was his ability to punt. Eby's kicks averaged well over forty yards, several of them traveling over 50 yards. Eby was declared the best high school punter ever seen on a Portsmouth gridiron.

This business of mixing a poultry mash is a lot of trouble isn't it?

Can't always get the same ingredients, don't know that the quality is uniform, can't balance accurately, mixing is a nuisance and takes a lot of time, and after all you don't get an even mixture.

Feed Chicken Chowder

Eliminate this mixing annoyance. Get a real mash, perfectly balanced, rich in growth vitamins, minerals and proper variety of proteins, always uniformly and thoroughly mixed and of consistent high quality. Chicken Chowder more than pays for itself in extra eggs produced.

SAVING THE HOME

ALL parents should feel a sympathetic response to the campaign cry of the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women, "Keep the Home Together." The members of the Federation fear the foundations of society are in peril of being undermined, if not torn apart, by the economic and social changes which are taking place in the United States, a fear which is shared by many other persons not ordinarily given to viewing social phenomena with alarm.

Under the double influence of revolutionary changes in the old conventions and proprieties and apartment house living, the supervision and control once exercised by parents over their children is being weakened and the younger generation, in many cases, is taking the ordering of its conduct into its own hands. With the narrowing, too, of the living quarters of a family by the restricted space of an apartment, the privacy that was possible to each member in the individual home is being lost, and girls and boys too frequently resort to the streets for the freedom which they crave.

The result is all too apparent in the wildness which is being exhibited by many of the younger generation, a wildness which often runs to crime. It cannot be hoped that the old rule of a separate house for each family can be continued. If, for no other reason, it is becoming economically impossible for the average family to buy or even rent a whole house for itself, and the apartment or flat is the alternative.

The problem is a large one. The home must be preserved, even if it be not the same kind that it was once the common privilege to possess. No society can endure of which the family is not the base, and families cannot be kept together anywhere except in the home.

JAY WALKER REGULATIONS

NEW YORK CITY'S police are after the jay-walkers. The plan is to make pedestrians the subject of regulation the same as motor cars and other vehicles. Chasing diagonally across streets or ignoring the traffic officer's signals will end in the traffic court with the auto drivers who do likewise.

Traffic regulation has to come to that in this modern age, the individual must accept some abridgment of his liberty for the sake of his own hide and the safety of others. If there is to be system and safety for moving objects on crowded streets, the pedestrian will have to co-ordinate himself with the rules and regulations of traffic.

Motor traffic no longer is ordered to slow up when the "go" signal is given. By official decrees motorists are commanded to "step on it." Under regulation speed is not in itself dangerous, but it becomes indescribably so if jay-walkers dart through moving traffic rather than waiting for their own right of way.

Smaller cities than New York are still large enough to pay some attention to the movement in that city. Portsmouth's jaywalkers are still to be domesticated. They run wild at every opportunity. Much of the fault of street accidents rests with motorists, but considerable of it rests on the door-step of the jay-walkers.

Whatever the divine spark is, it isn't the spark that starts a forest fire.

The bobbed hair fad will end, apparently, when the bobbed hair faddists are ready to end it.

There is a great deal of talk about "the open road," but for the most part it is closed for repairs.

British politicians are trying to reduce their election contest to a two-party affair, but it's like mixing oil and water.

We are told that pusheart merchants in New York City do $50,000,000 worth of business a year. Another illustration of the importance of small things.

Germany is already planning for a world fair four years hence to "prove that she still ranks among the nations foremost in industry and science." She will win a bigger place in the sun by such means than by any other.

Prescription for tired nerves: Mix in equal proportions a flood of golden sunshine, October tang and autumn foliage. Dose: A half-mile walk along a country road after each meal.

NOSTALGIA

By Joseph S. Dellanus

I've seen the costly mansion with its indolent marble floor.

But my home back is finer with the roses 'round the door.

I've mingled with all sorts of folks,

and many of renown,

But those who mean the most to me are in my old home town.

I've had a taste of Broadway and I've marveled at its worth,

But my home town will always be the grandest place on earth.

I'm weary of the sort of folks whose lives are full of shams,

Who like me for the gold I have and not for what I am.

I've had my fill of struggles on the highways that men roam,

And now the thing I'm craving is to hit the trail for home.

O, my heart will thrill with rapture

when I see the old latch key,

I know just where to find it and it's hanging out for me.

The Last Resort

"Poor fellow! He said that he tramped the streets of the big city until he was down to his last dollar."

And then decided to commit suicide."

"No. Then he decided to go to work."

No Hurry

Foreman: "Didn't you hear that whistle to go to work?"

Laborer: "I did, but I was waiting for the echo."

Not What He Meant

"You are not eating anything, Mr.

Eberly," she remarked solicitously.

With an ardent gaze of admiration

he said earnestly, "To sit next to you,

Miss Smythe, is to lose one's appetite."

Who Was the Donkey?

A pedestrian, who through from standing in the rain waiting for a street car, asked the conductor as the car stopped, "Is this Noah's Ark yet?"

"All but the donkey," said the conductor, "get on."

Rough Passage

She was very sentimental, was Miss

Portsway. She took the Girl's Gush every Tuesday and simply reveled in the romances therein recounted.

Stories were all very well, but she longed to come across a real case of flirted love.

One day, bound for a week-end in Paris, she saw a girl on the quay at

Dover sitting in a most dejected attitude on a trunk.

"Poor thing!" thought the romantic young lady. "She is probably alone and a stranger, her pale cheeks and great sad eyes tell of a broken heart and a yearning for sympathy."

Approaching the traveler she tried to win her confidence.

"Crossed in love?" she asked sympathetically.

"No," replied the girl, wearily; "in the Royal Crown and a rough passage

it was, too."

Police News

In Municipal court Monday, R. Spencer, 21, was fined $10, and costs for reckless driving, but as it was his first offense the fine was later suspended.
Chester Barber, 19, drew a fine of $15 and costs for being disorderly near the Nazarene church on Sixth street Sunday and George Royal was assessed $15 and costs for intoxication.

Will Kitchen, A. Harrison, John Allen and Eliza Zimmermann were each $5 and costs for intoxication.

Lemasters Fined

Cleveland Lemasters, 34, was adjudged guilty of possession and selling liquor at a hearing in Municipal court Monday and Judge Sprague imposed a fine of $100 and costs against him on the first charge and $300 on the second charge.

Lemasters presented a rather bungled up appearance when he appeared in court, one eye being swollen shut and he had several cuts on his head inflicted by Federal Officer F. W. Ricker, the arresting officer, who told the court that he refused to hold up his hands when commanded and instead made a move toward his pocket, which, it developed, a couple of half pints of moonshine liquor. The arrest was made at the Terminal late Sunday night, when Lemasters was caught in the act of making a sale.

NEW YORK DAY-BY-DAY

BY G. O. McNETT

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—He is one of the cheerful society rascals of New York. He has many of them—well bred parasites who live on the generosity of friends. This one is a king of the species. He has spent a fortune of his own and that of three wives. A large part of his time is spent dodging process servers, and yet to the casual observer he lives a life of luxurious ease. He has the manners of an aristocrat and the general appearance of the hardened rascal of the bachelor clubs.

He is tall, dark and has a tightly waxed mustache. His eyes are fox-like and shifty, and his parchment colored skin is filled with tiny wrinkles. His dress is impeccable. Morning, afternoon and evening he is always correctly and appropriately groomed.

The other night in a cafe I heard a head waiter—the famous Theodore incidentally—say with no show of concern: "Mizieu is an unwelcome guest here until he settles for past favors." There was a quick stage villain laugh.

And he and his beautifully groomed escort turned and left for some other high spot where, credit was not so strained. Most of these parasites have had every advantage in life. Their entering began with the first lap. And the best colleges were opened to them.

This one spent many years of amusing uselessness in Paris, London, Cairo and Monte Carlo. He has never given any thought to anyone save himself. Only, and of his friends has kept him from the prison cell for many pleasurable times.

New York countenances them. Anywhere else they would be kicked out of respectable society and be forced to prove themselves of worth before they could ever return. But this one has the halo of an old family and New York snobbish respects it.
